

Zsuzsanna Váradi-Kalmár

THE CULTIC CODE

A paradigmatic proposition of
THE WORLD OF THE SEED

A scientific research of
THE LIVING BOOKS OF PAUL BOWLES

And a cinematographic experiment of
A SENSE OF A MAZE

Zsuzsanna Váradi-Kalmár, The Cultic Code

Private print by the author: Buda, Hungary, 2015.

Second private print: 2017.

ISBN 978-963-12-2131-2

Table of contents

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS...6

THE WORLD OF THE SEED: The rebirth of a paradigm...7

THE LIVING BOOKS OF PAUL BOWLES...17

INTRODUCTION. A search for the essence: extraction of substance from shadows... 18

1. Shadow and substance

1.1 Definition

1.2 Problem

2. Paul Bowles

2.1 One song

2.2 Four novels

3. Process of research

4. The live material of literature

4.1 Critical background

4.2 Revelativity

CHAPTER ONE. An artist, a journey, an encounter...31

1. Bowles's journey

2. Encounter

3. Baptism by the Absolute

4. Cultic forms

4.1 Ecstatic practice

4.2 Magic

4.3 Music

4.4 Story-telling

4.5 Recital

4.6 Language

CHAPTER TWO. Separation of narrative, and observation of its metanarrative tendencies...46

I. Journey and encounter in the Western literary tradition...46

1. Narrative as liminal

1.1 Narrative as dynamic time

1.2 Liminal characters

1.3 Literature of travel: search for substance

1.4 Liminal place of arrival

1.5 Metamorphosis: thematic process of change

2. Point of break-through: encounter with substance

2.1 Orientalism

2.2 Liminal experience

II. Colonial shadows – Problem paradigm...59

1. Culturally conditioned perception

2. Historical revision

3. The colonial paradigm

3.1 Orient as opium

3.2 Alienation

3.3 Colonial urge of subordination

3.4 The divided self

3.5 Linguistic schism

3.6 Cultic schism

4.	The point of no return and no development
III.	Postcolonial substance – Encounter and resolution...	70
1.	Preliminal phase: juxtaposition
2.	Liminal phase
2.1	Superimposition: opening to the unknown
2.2	Identification: third position
3.	Postliminal phase: reintegration
4.	Common ground, common substance
IV.	Critical shadows...	81
1.	Lost in story
2.	Citicism as mirror to the critic
3.	Academic symptoms of colonial pathology
4.	Narrative waves
V.	Hermeneutic vision of substance...	85
1.	Ontology of reading
1.1	Experience
1.2	Participation
1.3	Ontology of art
1.4	Transformation of vision
2.	Superseding narrative
3.	Differentiation of time
4.	Reconstruction
4.1	Operation
4.2	Nature
4.3	Structure
5.	Poetry
5.1	Non-informativity
5.2	Transgressivity
5.3	Metaphoricity
5.4	Poetic figures
6.	Feed-back into narrative: total form
7.	Limit of hermeneutics
8.	Revelativity
	CHAPTER THREE. Identification of metanarrative, and observation of its organisation...	100
	Introduction to metanarrative textual analyses
I.	The Sheltering Sky (1949)...	102
II.	Let It Come Down (1952)...	110
III.	The Spider's House (1955)...	118
IV.	Up Above the World (1966)...	132
V.	Emblematic titles – Revelativity...	147
1.	Emblem
2.	Riddles
3.	Enigma
VI.	The cultic organism...	155
1.	The metanarrative unit
1.1	Narrative waves
1.2	Atomic substance
2.	The metanarrative bind

2.1	Character constellations
2.2	Fields
2.3	Metanarrative causality
3.	The cultic principles of substance
4.	Summary
5.	Inter-disciplinary perspective: Pierre Teilhard de Chardin and Rupert Sheldrake
CHAPTER FOUR. Resolution of the apparent divide between shadow and substance....		170
I.	Other genres, other works – Metanarrative method of reading...	170
1.	Poetry
2.	Short stories
3.	Travel narratives
4.	James Joyce
II.	Cult as myth, orality, and mode of participation...	176
1.	Cultic paradigm: myth-based culture
2.	Inter-disciplinary aspects
2.1	Literary-religious considerations
2.2	Myth as passage: anthropology
2.3	Inner process of transition: psychology
3.	The metanarrative of myth
3.1	Magical operation
3.2	End: fulfilled time
3.3	The monomyth we live by
3.4	Archetypal character constellation
3.5	Archetypal attributes
3.6	Vertical order
4.	Orality
4.1	Enactment, performance
4.2	Structure: repetition and variation
4.3	Sound
5.	Mythical-metanarrative mode: participation
CONCLUSION. Transformed vision...		192
1.	Synoptic paradigm of substance
2.	The body and pulse of substance
2.1	The cultic code.
2.2	Map
2.3	Textual alchemy
3.	Back to Bowles
3.1	Genius
3.2	Existential affirmation
4.	Awakening
WORKS CITED...		199
ETYMOLOGICAL NOTES...		204